The City of Moab is seeking a Parks, Recreation & Trails Director to join this vibrant community of 5,300 located along the Colorado River in rugged southeastern Utah. The region is known for its stunning red rock cliffs and towering sandstone formations, attracting 3 million global visitors a year. The City serves a population of 5,300 with a budget of $24 million and a team of 89 FTEs and 102 PTEs.

As the primary purveyor of public parks and recreation services to the region, the Parks and Recreation Department oversees the upkeep, planning, and improvement of the City parks and trail systems; administers traditional sports leagues; manages an aquatic center; and develops creative programming in partnership with other community organizations across the City. The Director is in charge of supervising and coordinating these varied functions along with their capital programming needs, and is also responsible for the planning, development, and long-term health of Moab’s urban trail network. This position requires excellent customer service skills and an advanced sense of diplomacy when dealing with internal and external constituents.

WHY APPLY

This is a unique opportunity to join a friendly community and improve the quality of life through the Parks and Recreation department. Moab is a tight-knit community that offers small-town charm and is a world-renowned destination for outdoor enthusiasts. City employees are dedicated to their community and organization and have a strong professional work ethic. This is an exceptional opportunity to play an important role in helping the community make positive changes and progress vis-à-vis diversity, equity, and inclusion. Come join an outstanding group that works well as a team.

View the full position profile and job description at gmphr.com.
More Information: GMP Consultants is assisting the City of Moab with this search. Learn more at gmphr.com. The City of Moab is an Equal Opportunity Employer. First Review is August 6, 2023.